

The Roman Army Museum Welcomes a New Recruit

Our very own Roman soldier, Gambax!

Gambax is a Tungrian soldier who has served at Vindolanda for 20 years. Now stationed at Magna Fort, Carvoran, Gambax has been promoted to recruiting officer for the Roman army.

Gambax will talk to your potential young recruits and show them examples of:

- Body armour
- Helmets
- Clothing
- Swords
- Daggers
- Spears
- Shields

- He will also talk about the benefits of being a soldier in the Roman army!

(All examples of equipment and clothing are based on evidence from the Vindolanda excavations!)

Come and have a wonderful day out on Hadrian's Wall. Visit both of our sites and we'll arrange superb educational facilities for you!

To book your talk with Gambax call the Vindolanda office now on:
